MOOD 2020
Metabolic Syndrome Obesity Ovarian dysfunction & Diabetes

Dear Friends

Greetings from Hyderabad

The prevalence of metabolic disorders is increasing worldwide and these disorders are becoming a major health and economic burden to the population affecting the quality of life and significantly increasing the morbidity and mortality.

These disorders have a wide spectrum of presentations either as PCOS in young women or as hypertension, dyslipidemia, prediabetes and diabetes in both sexes. An early intervention to identify these abnormalities and initiate appropriate preventive and corrective measures will greatly reduce the burden of the subsequent problems.

The MP-PCOS society is an Association of diverse medical specialists, Endocrinologists, Physicians, Gynaecologists, Dermatologists, metabolic physicians etc to name a few who are all involved in the management of these metabolic disorders and PCOS. The third annual meeting focuses on – PCOS – the life span approach to address these important issues and. The conference aims to bring together all these diverse specialists to a common platform to exchange their views in order to arrive at strategies to address this problem.

We look forward to your active participation in this unique forum.

With warm regards,
The Members of the Organizing Committee
